COMPETITIVE PARTICIPATION - THE CATEGORIES

Advice on your category and programme choice

I. Category choice

All choirs may participate in only one of categories A or B or G. Choirs may additionally choose to participate in categories S, F and P independent of their participation in categories A, B or G.

Female sections of a choir competing in A category may also compete in A3 category, while male voices may participate in A2.

Female and male sections of mixed choirs competing in B may also sign up for category B2 respectively B3.

Individual choir members may participate in smaller ensembles formed out of their primary choir but may NOT sing in more than one primary choir.

When choosing the category please, keep in sight your choir's previous experience, results, capabilities in performances at home and abroad.

The A categories are recommended for choirs with:

- more experience in the international choral scene
- a higher grade of vocal and musical training
- choirs of music schools and conservatories

The B categories are recommended for choirs with:

- less experience
- a less frequent rehearsal praxis or more limited rehearsal possibilities
- or recently founded choirs regardless of the number of singers

G categories (Children's and Youth Choirs)

Participants of the G categories can also sign up for the categories S, F and P.

These categories have an age restriction. A limited number of singers may diverge from what is given, up to a certain age. May you have questions, please always consult the organisers.

Category B4 (Senior Choirs)

All singers young at heart are welcome to present their skills among like-minded. If you are not sure about to choose please get in contact with us and look at the category description on page 6.

Category P (Pop & Jazz)

Choirs have the possibility to perform programmes from Pop and Jazz. However, contemporary classical choral music should be presented in categories A, B and G.

UMBRELLA Categories

Categories S – Musica Sacra, F – Folklore, P – Pop & Jazz and B4 - Senior Choirs

All participating choirs of different genres in each of these categories are singing together in the particular, so called "Umbrella Category". In these categories the jury has the right to award choirs due to their genre (Female, Mixed, etc.) or by the type of their programme (jazz, pop, folklore) with a prize equal to the category winner (e.g. Best Female Choir in Musica Sacra or Best Jazz Choir in category P). Choirs with this award and a result of 23,00 or more than 23,00 points may be entitled to sing with the category winners for the Grand Prize.

II. Programme choice

When choosing the pieces, you are kindly advised to carefully consider the whole structure of the programme. Try to set up a well-balanced order of the pieces considering the dramaturgy and the different musical characters. In selecting your programme take into consideration your choir's knowledge, the singers' abilities and age group. If it fits your programme choice, it would be advisable to incorporate your national choral traditions.

The organisers are happy to help you in your category and programme's choice. Do not hesitate to contact us!

COMPETITIVE PARTICIPATION - EVALUATION SYSTEM, DIPLOMAS & GRAND PRIZE

The InChoral Evaluation System

The InChoral evaluation system was presented at 2015 Budapest International Choral Competition. It preserves all the advantages of the well-known evaluation concept that I worked out while introducing new criteria to provide a more efficient assistance to choirs' learning with a more detailed and perspicuous evaluation system. Beside other aspects the jury will give choirs a feedback about the programme dramaturgy, the selection, difficulty etc. In evaluating a choir, taking all the criteria into account, we aim at finding a most desirable proportion of various elements to provide a realistic feedback on the choirs' performance. This new generation of choir competitions are united under the auspices of InChoral – International Choral Festival Network – and focus on cultural exchange, getting acquainted with one another and a shared musical experience, beside well-deserved success of the choirs. .

Yours Gábor Hollerung
